

SY-2026-2027: Rhetoric School Anatomy & Physiology Teacher Austin Classical School

Austin Classical School is a classical, Christian, collaborative school in Austin, Texas, serving PreKindergarten through 12th grade. Austin Classical School exists to glorify Jesus Christ by co-laboring with families to cultivate wise, virtuous, and humble students through an excellent classical, Christian education.

In our collaborative model, Grammar School students (PreK-4th) are on campus two days per week (M/W), School of Logic students (5th-8th) are on campus three days per week (M/W/Th), and School of Rhetoric students (9th-12th) are on campus four days per week (M-Th). On the remaining weekdays, students are at home completing assigned work independently or under the guidance of their co-teaching parents.

We are currently seeking a part-time Anatomy & Physiology Teacher

We are looking for a professional who:

- Loves and serves Jesus wholeheartedly
- Truly enjoys teaching and engaging with high school students
- Demonstrates a passion for Anatomy & Physiology and the ability to impart a love for this discipline
- Has a deep passion for truth, goodness and beauty within the scope of a liberal arts education
- Has experience with classical pedagogies and a desire to teach in the classical Christian tradition
- Possesses strong written and verbal communication skills
- Enjoys working as part of a team of believers called by God to create a school dedicated to His glory
- Has strong classroom management skills to help good students achieve high levels of excellence
- Is a self-starter with a positive, “can do” attitude and a sense of humor
- Demonstrates a willingness to continue to learn and grow as a professional
- Joyfully affirms our Statement of Faith
- Possesses a bachelor’s degree and relevant teaching experience

Responsibilities

- Classroom teacher: (M/W)
  - One section of Anatomy & Physiology (honors).
- In executing these responsibilities, teachers will
  - Create a joyful, grace-filled classroom environment where students enjoy learning together
  - Develop lesson plans for both on-campus and home days
  - Communicate consistently, truthfully, and graciously with students and parents
  - Engage students in age-appropriate classical instruction
  - Set measurable objectives for students to move towards mastery
  - Assess students formally and informally and reflect results in their grade and conduct reports

- o Maintain a tidy and orderly classroom, taking care of curricula and equipment belonging to ACS and encouraging students to uphold the school-wide expectations regarding classroom behavior
- o Perform other duties as directed by the Head of Rhetoric. Examples include:
  - Monitoring students at lunch
  - Chaperoning student events

On-Campus Time Requirements:

- Summer faculty mandatory training days will be held: TBD.
- On-campus days for the School of Rhetoric are Monday-Thursday throughout the school year (TBD). Faculty who teach first period classes must be on campus by 7:40a; otherwise, teachers are required to be on campus at least thirty minutes prior to their first class of the day.
- Monthly faculty meetings are held on one Friday of each month from 9a-1p.
- There is a student retreat and an evening open house for parents soon after the start of the school year.
- For other important dates and breaks, see the academic calendar on our website.

Reports to: Greg Jeffers, Head of Rhetoric

Salary is competitive and commensurate with education and experience. Teachers are paid twice a month from August through May.

For more information about ACS, please visit our website www.austinclassical.org . If you are interested in joining the ACS Team, please send your resume and cover letter to Liz Brown at liz.brown@austinclassical.org.